Mervin Nolt Retires from Board

Espigh, Director of Finance, says “Merv was always very thorough in his thinking. He had a keen discernment in matters of finance resulting from his years of business experience. We came to depend on him for good financial advice.”

Merv and his wife Susan have parented four children. They are members of the Mount Joy Mennonite Church. Merv and Susan were some of the first to sign on as residents of Harvest View. I consider this a high testament to the appreciation and respect they have for Landis Homes and the quality of services provided.

Merv founded a garment manufacturing firm near Mount Joy, presently known as Donegal Industries. Merv has served in numerous volunteer capacities with his home church as well as the Conference and Mission Board.

I personally wish to thank Merv for his council, not only in financial matters but management issues as well. As an active member of the campus Merv’s participation will continue to have a positive influence on this community in the years ahead.

Ground-breaking Goal Achieved!

At the end of December 1996 THE HERITAGE fund drive had gathered in $752,066 in cash and pledges. This means we have surpassed our ground-breaking goal of $700,000! By summer of 1997 we will be well on our way toward having that best possible, home-like setting to care for people with dementia. That’s exciting! But we aren’t finished yet. We are hoping to raise another $300,000 to help us furnish and equip THE HERITAGE. Your gift will help us reach our overall goal of one million dollars. Please contact Mark LoMonaco at 569-3271 to discuss planned giving opportunities that will provide lifetime income and tax benefits or send your gift directly to Landis Homes in care of the Development Office. Thank you!
Why Do People Volunteer at Landis Homes? Volunteers Speak Up

What is it that keeps 350 volunteers serving in 14 different departments at Landis Homes? Volunteers come from our own campus, local churches, and the broader community. Volunteer Coordinator, Arlene Kreider, set out to hear from some of them first-hand. This is how a few volunteers responded to the question, “What do you like about volunteering at Landis Homes?”

Paul Brubaker (driver, mail, religious life) - I like to work among people and help wherever I can. I enjoy doing something for someone else as long as I have my health.

Betty G. Denlinger (mail, wheelchair transport) - I enjoy being active, feeling useful, and working with people.

Arlene Eby (Activities hostess, flower arranging) - I like the people contacts and satisfaction of helping others.

Clair Eby (General Store, religious life) - It gives me something to do and helps others in need.

Dr. Rohrer Eshleman (Adult Day Services) - Working with vulnerable adults and watching them strive to be independent keeps my heart grateful for my own freedom of movement. Listening to stories from the monthly men’s group I direct brings to light many of my own exciting experiences, and what an adrenalin rush that is!

Ruth Giagnocavo (librarian, reading time) - I like doing Poetry Hour and reminiscing. I like books too.

Ruth Kopp (wheelchair transport) - Getting away from home; I like the atmosphere and seeing people I know.

Evelyn Martin (Gift Shop, General Store, Friendly Visitor) - Meeting all the friendly people and working for a worthy cause.

Mildred McGuigan (hostess, religious life) - You get to meet people, to help people.

Anna Oberholtzer (plants, crafts, Adult Day Services) - I enjoy doing something for someone else; some day it might be my turn to receive.

Kay Predmore (Volunteer Services, Friendly Visitor, driver, etc.) - I enjoy partnering with Landis Homes in meeting its mission and goals, and the Volunteer Coordinator enthusiastically affirmed my offer to participate in the multi-faceted program here.

Paul Weaver (store shopper, driver, cashier) - I like to learn to know people and do things for others.

Velma Weaver (laundry) - Being with others.

John Winters (mail, General Store, religious life) - I just plain enjoy it. It gives me something to do.

Sadie Yost (Activities, Friendly Visitor) - I like the interaction with the people I am helping.

It is obvious that volunteering means helping others AND receiving joy and fulfillment in return. Join the winning team -- BE A VOLUNTEER!
Irma Hoober explains a quilted wall-hanging to art students from West Fallowfield Christian School on a field trip to see the Landis Homes Art Collection.

Janet Kauffman, center, serves Mark Weaver from the Christmas Dinner dessert bar as Fannie Stoner looks on.

Luke Shank gets into the program "Monkey Business."

Aquila Stoltzfus, Dollie Fowler Young and Amos Groff star in one segment of the Drama Club's first performance.

Lydia Martin makes a Christmas card with a kindergarten student from Lillitiz Area Mennonite School in December.
Landis Homes is blessed to have many committed long-term staff members. Thirty-seven staff who reached five-year milestones of service at Landis Homes were recognized during the annual staff banquet at Yoder’s Restaurant on December 5, 1996. Landis Homes Finds “Home” on World Wide Web

At the November Landis Homes board meeting, a home page for Landis Homes on the World Wide Web was unveiled. The home page address is http://members.aol.com/lhrc. The purpose for the home page is to establish a presence on the internet for residents, resident families and other interested persons to visit and learn more about Landis Homes. Deb Laws-Landis, creator of the web page content, said her hope for the page is “...to establish another way to communicate with and build bridges to the larger community.”

The site currently includes information on our mission, accreditation, services to the community, general descriptions of job and volunteer opportunities, long term care insurance, conveniences on campus, admission requirements, location/directions, contact information, and a guest book for visitors to sign and share any comments. Future plans are to include news items on a regular basis, as well as other content that can help build community among those persons who have internet access.

In the first two months of activity, more than 100 visitors stopped by the page. Many of these persons learned of the page through a listing in the MennonLink Mennonite Information Center web page, which lists web and e-mail addresses for a variety of Mennonite conferences, churches and organizations.

If you have any comments or suggestions about the Landis Homes web page, please contact Larry Zook at Landis Homes by phone (581-3936) or e-mail (Larry@LandisHomes.org). Larry serves as webmaster for Landis Homes and is on staff as Director of Administrative Services.
