

New Prayer and Memory Garden Dedicated

“Thanks to God for all those people who dreamed of a memory garden,” said Landis Homes Director of Pastoral Care Don Good in his opening remarks at the service of dedication for a new Prayer & Memory Garden held on July 6. The new garden, located outdoors near West Bethany Chapel on the Westside of campus, consists of a stone walkway, raised flowerbeds, live plants and trees, benches and outdoor artwork including a wall fountain.

The Landis Homes Auxiliary along with resident Mildred McGuigan, in honor of her late husband Chester, gave initial contributions to make the project a reality. Mildred with her three daughters joined Kas Sensenig, the former Landis Homes auxiliary president, in a procession to the garden itself following the dedication service.

In addition to the garden being a place where persons can experience quiet meditation and reflection, it can also be a location for those families choosing cremation. Over the years the original idea for the garden came from various residents who were looking for both of these elements. A group formed which decided to bring these two desires together in one setting.

A third aspect of the prayer & memory garden, is that it provides an opportunity for residents and their families to place an engraved brick along the walkway in honor of or in memory of a loved one. The proceeds from these engraved stones will benefit the Landis Homes endowment fund.

In the closing prayer of dedication the congregation read these words, “. . . we dedicate this garden to the memory of those who have lived, who now live, and who will live at Landis Homes.”

Dear Friends of Landis Homes

Landis Homes and the Board of Directors announce the upcoming retirement of Ed Longenecker, President, on December 31, 2006. Ed joined Landis Homes in 1976 as the second administrator. During his 30 years of leadership, Ed has exemplified the persona of a "servant leader" as he worked on building a strong management team and strived to carry out the vision of the Organization. We value the many contributions Ed has made in empowering our staff and honoring and enriching the lives of our residents. Please join us in thanking him for his 30 years of servant leadership.

The Board of Directors has appointed a search committee and is teaming with Mennonite Health Services Alliance, a nationally based organization, specializing in searching for faith-based executive leadership. We thank you for your support during this transition and welcome your prayers for guidance and wisdom.

Heritage Watchers Class to Begin 11th Year

The first session of a nine-part series called Heritage Watchers: Life Stories, Memoirs and Photographs will be held on Thursday, September 7th at 1:00 p.m. in the West Bethany Chapel. The program is designed to lead participants in collecting, organizing and preserving photographs, artifacts and documents into attractive, safe and “user friendly” forms.

Class instructor Joanne Hess Siegrist is beginning her eleventh year of leading these classes. A Lancaster County native, Siegrist has worked as a teacher, historian, author, promoter of family life, as well as a community and church worker. She is the author of Mennonite Women of Lancaster County: A story in photographs from 1855-1935 published by Good Books, 1996.

A wide variety of project options exist including personal life story, child’s life story, extended family story, church story and community story. These classes are open to all ages – from home school students to retired seniors, both genders, retirement community residents and the general public. Past participants came from Berks, Delaware Valley, Franklin, Lebanon and York Counties.

The classes meet once a month on the first Thursday from September 2006 to May 2007. Persons may attend every class or pick and choose the classes based on topical material. A course schedule is available and will be distributed at the introductory class on September 7.

For more information or to register for the classes contact Joanne Hess Siegrist at 717-656-6429 or jhs606@frontiernet.net, or Landis Homes Activities Coordinator Janice Hess at 717-569-3271.

Art Reception Features Local Artists

A summer art reception will be held in August, which will feature the diverse works of two Lancaster artists.

Marcella Leaman Sims, a Lancaster native, recently returned to the Lancaster area after living in Vermont, North Carolina, and Austin, Texas. Her featured work is a series of black-and-white street photographs from Greece and Portugal. She lives with her husband and children in Lancaster and is a member of Community Mennonite Church of Lancaster. She is the daughter of Landis Homes board member Robert Leaman.

Emily Smucker-Beidler, who had her first color theory lesson from her grandmother’s braided rugs, creates fraktur pieces that celebrate the past and the present. Emily enjoys bringing together the traditional craft of fraktur with her formal understanding of color and design. She lives in Lancaster with her husband and two children, serves part-time as the Director of Youth at Community Mennonite Church of Lancaster.

Emily and Marcella hold pieces of the work they will show in August.

The opening reception, to which the public is welcome, will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday, August 8, in the Harvest View lobby and galleries. The works will continue to be on display through October 2006. For more information, call 717-581-3935.

Planning with Gift Annuities

With this issue of Horizons we are pleased to include some resident Gift Annuity testimonials.

A Gift Annuity can be written for $5,000 or any higher amount. In return the donor receives quarterly payments at a fixed rate for the rest of their life. In a two-life plan the payments continue until the demise of the second spouse.

Gift annuity rates are recommended by the American Council on Gift Annuities:

Sample Single Life* Rates

Age when gift is made	Payment Rate
65.....	6.0%
70	6.5%
75	7.1%
80	8.0%
85.....	9.5%
90.....	11.3%

Two Life rates are slightly lower*

You are welcome to contact us in the office of Gift Planning Services to discuss your questions or to request a personalized no obligation proposal showing how a gift annuity would work for you. 717-509-5490 or email jbuckwalter@landishomes.org

My father, Noah Groff, was a kind and generous person and he made a lasting impression on me as a young man. He was not only kind to his family but he was a faithful supporter of the church and other charitable organizations he believed in.

Amos (and Ruth) Groff

He has influenced my life as we have supported various charities. The Caring Fund at Landis Homes is one of those concerns. While we are in reasonably good health now, we never know when things could change. We are pleased that the residue in our gift annuities will benefit others through the Caring Fund after we are no longer here.

Laura Brubaker

I was pleased to learn about the opportunity of benefiting the Caring Fund through a Landis Homes Gift Annuity. While I am concerned about the future needs of others and would like to give more, I also need to be careful how I manage and conserve my resources.

While a gift annuity means giving up some principal as a charitable gift, I have found my income has increased due to the generous payment rate. Part of my payment is received tax-free each year, which means my effective yield is even greater.

George Leaman Turns 100... Campus Celebrates

In honor of the 100th birthday of George W. Leaman, the first person to serve as administrator at Landis Homes, the Summer Adventure campers are shown with a banner they made. It features a cake with exactly 100 candles. Ten children each drew 10 candles. Celebrations were held campus-wide with cake and ice cream and a display of Leaman's accomplishments.

Renovations Expand Eden West

Several hundred persons came to the Open House for the renovation of the Westview building in July. The project includes a new fitness center with exercise equipment, a new shuffleboard room and a new billiards room as well as the expansion of the Eden West Adult Day Services Center.

With the additional space the Eden West center is able to serve 13 additional clients, for a daily total of 38 persons. The center provides day services to persons in the Lancaster Community who live with family off campus.

“This expansion is the result of an on-going list of persons waiting to come to our program,” said Eden West Manager Elaine Hollinger. “We are so pleased to be able to offer these services to more families in the surrounding community.”

Student Artwork Selected

Landis Homes selected a piece by Lancaster Mennonite High School student Jodi Baliles, the Art Student Award winner for 2006. Each year a jury of four, representing Landis Homes residents and board, and the Lancaster Mennonite art department selects a piece of artwork from the Lancaster Mennonite High School Spring Fine Arts Festival.

The subject of the acrylic work, which becomes part of the permanent art collection, is a dirt road in the country late in the day and just after a rain. Baliles used a photo taken by her family of just such a scene in West Virginia. "My dad is from West Virginia so we have often spent time there visiting family," said Baliles.

Baliles, who is a 2006 graduate, is the daughter of David and Jean Baliles of New Holland and a member of Weaverland Mennonite Church. In addition to art she was involved in campus chorale, yearbook staff, string orchestra and the National Honor Society. In return for the artwork, Landis Homes made contributions to the Lancaster Mennonite High art department and to further Baliles' education. Her plan is to do mission work in the coming year before beginning college in the fall of 2007.

LMH art department chair Kathy Ciaccia says, "Jodi has worked on this piece for more than a year and it is good to see her receive this honor. I am so pleased to be part of this program with Landis Homes which benefits all the art students at Lancaster Mennonite."

Long-Term Care Insurance

Long-Term Care (LTC) insurance is one of the best ways to prepare financially for the costs associated with an extended illness or injury. One common misconception is that one should wait to purchase LTC insurance until retirement. According to the American Health Care Association, AHCA, 40% of the 13 million Americans receiving long-term care services are between the ages of 18 and 64. * This, along with the fact that many persons are ineligible to purchase LTC insurance due to pre-existing health conditions, should make it clear that LTC insurance is not just for those over age 65.

Long-term care insurance protection is significantly less expensive than most people think. Again, according to the AHCA, the greatest mistake people make is waiting until they can no longer qualify for good health or other discounts that are readily available. This can lead to paying higher prices.

Should you have any questions about LTC insurance, Medicare Supplement, Medicare Part D or Health insurance please contact me at Landis Homes at 581-3866 or at MMA – Sauder Financial at 394-0769. We offer a broad range of high quality products through a variety of insurance providers. I would be happy to meet with you.
