Leaders in Serving
Two Receive PANPHA Awards

Two team members of Landis Homes received state awards at the PANPHA annual meetings in Hershey in June. Corrina Burkholder was selected as Caregiver of the Year-Non-Licensed Nursing and Stu Landis was selected for the Professional Advancement Award.

PANPHA, an association of nonprofit senior services, is the state’s largest trade association, representing more than 350 nonprofit private, fraternal, religious and government-sponsored providers of housing and health-related service options to Pennsylvania’s elderly.

The Caregiver of the Year – Non-Licensed Nursing Award is given to the individual who best serves as a model of commitment to compassionate care. Burkholder was recognized for her work as a certified nursing assistant and as a medication technician.

“As a team leader for the Cedar household she is an example to the rest of her team on how to put the residents’ needs first, always thinking of ways to keep them active, happy and fulfilled,” read the comments about Corrina at the awards presentation.

Upon receiving the award, Corrina shared, “I work with an inspirational team of dedicated co-workers who consistently enrich and honor the lives of seniors……Therefore, I was surprised and honored to be chosen from this team as the recipient of PANPHA’s award.”

The Professional Advancement Award is given to an individual who has assumed progressive leadership responsibilities within a member organization and has worked to build a shared vision, develop robust relationships and organizational capability.

Stu Landis began his journey at Landis Homes 20 years ago when he joined the maintenance department as a general handyman. Over time he used his interest and continued education in technology to become the Director of Information Technology.

Stu and Corrina attended the Awards presentation and brunch with family members, residents and co-workers.

About the award, Stu said, “I felt receiving the service award was an incredible honor and reflects much about the opportunity that Landis Homes gives to its team members to grow and develop. This award...”

Landis Homes is committed to honoring and enriching the lives of all who we serve. This commitment is represented in our guiding values of joy, compassion, integrity, stewardship and community. These values guide our decision-making in many areas, including that of adopting technologies supporting those we serve, and those who are serving.

While Landis Homes has a reputation of being a high-touch, compassionate organization, increasingly high-tech tools and systems are being used to support quality care. We were one of the first local retirement communities to adopt a campus-wide wireless phone system allowing support staff to keep in touch with residents and each other.

Landis Homes was also one of the earliest to adopt a campus-wide wireless internet (Wi-Fi) service supporting both staff members and residents in connecting with the internet, thereby with family and friends both near and far. Landis Homes also has been actively involved with social networking through Facebook, Twitter, YouTube and other social media which help to build community.

Crucial to the successful adoption of any new technology is a strong team effort. In surveys of staff members, we have found an openness to learn and to adopt new technologies. An example is Stu Landis, Director of Information Technology. Recently he was recognized with the PANPHA Professional Advancement Award, noting his career that started in Maintenance and led to progressively greater responsibility in guiding our Information Technology efforts. We are grateful to Stu, and other IT Team members, for their support of staff members and residents as we embrace new technologies.

One of the significant technology initiatives currently underway is the selection and adoption of an Electronic Medical Record (EMR) system. Stu Landis and Eva Bering, VP of Operations, are guiding this effort, along with an excellent Health Information Committee. See article, page 3.

Over the years, other retirement communities in the area have also recognized Landis Homes for its strong IT program. The Landis Homes IT team is currently providing support for two other retirement communities in the Lancaster-Lebanon area.

In adopting new technology, our goal is to always place people first, those we serve, and those serving, in support of our mission of honoring and enriching the lives of aging adults and their families in communities of Christ-like love.

Larry Zook, CEO
New Health Information Committee Forms

In keeping with a national presidential mandate that all health care providers have an interoperable electronic record in place by 2014, Landis Homes has recently formed a Health Information Technology Steering committee. A group of team members from various departments comprise the committee commissioned to select, adopt and implement the use of an Electronic Medical Record (EMR) system.

The EMR is an individual’s medical information in an electronic format. Information concerning the individual is accessible through the computers on a network. The goal of an electronic record system is to increase efficiency, reduce paper documentation, decrease errors, avoid duplication and increase the quality of care.

Landis Homes’ journey will begin with electronic medical records in health care and then extend to the entire organization. Health care team members are already gathering individual resident information. This process will continue as more information is gathered electronically and as staff members become more adept at using the new computer software and portable technology.

The end result is that up to date health information will be available and portable among multiple care providers. Locally and nationally, the meaningful use of this information will provide clinical decision support, management of disease and resource utilization of specific interventions.

The committee is identifying important elements to be successful in the selection of an electronic record delivery system. The aim for implementation is early 2012.

The name chosen for this effort is eLINC, which stand for “Embracing life information-networking community.” The committee selected the name which encompasses the scope of this effort in connecting information between various health care providers and across the retirement community campus and to be in line with the Landis Homes guiding values.

Team members of the committee are:

Art Reception to Feature Friendship Community

An art reception in September will feature numerous artists who participate in weekly art classes at The heART of Friendship ART Gallery located in downtown Ephrata. The heART of Friendship, an extension of Friendship Community, empowers adults with developmental and intellectual disabilities to pursue the creation of art as a way of developing skills, achieving self expression, finding a meaningful role in society and moving toward economic independence. Using various mediums, the artists freely express their artistic gifts to create beautiful pieces of art which are then sold in the Ephrata gallery.

Several of the artists will have their work on exhibit and for sale at Landis Homes. This includes Nancy Shreiner, who is the daughter of Landis Homes resident Anne E. Landis. Nancy recently moved to a new Friendship Community home in the Ephrata area.

The opening reception will be held from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, September 22, 2011 in the Harvest View lobby and galleries. The art work will continue to be on exhibit through October 2011.

Auction Art Preview Reception August 2
6:30-8:30 pm

By Alonna Gautsche Sprunger,
Director of Gift Planning Services

All are invited to an Art Preview Reception on Tuesday, August 2 from 6:30 – 8:30 pm in the Harvest View lobby and galleries. The shows feature many artists who have donated original works, limited edition prints, and vintage art pieces. Art enthusiasts and collectors have also donated pieces. These donated works will be auctioned on Fellowship Day, September 10, through the live and silent auctions. Both benefit the Landis Homes Caring Fund which helps support the benevolent care provided to those who can no longer cover the full cost of care and services.

While art donations are still being received, some of the displayed works were created by Liz Hess, Paris Wyatt Llanso, Don Ziegler, Elsie Beiler, Mary Trees, Velma Magill, Ruth Horning, Lisa Mercer, Friendship heART artists, Bruce Johnson, Anna M. Smith, Myrtle Tremblay, Gladys Zeiset, Andrew Wyeth and many more.

The opening reception will include violin music by accomplished musician Hugo De Luna. Hosting the reception will be Mary Trees, Velma Magill, Daniel Riehl and Dawn Zook, members of the Auction Art Committee. Refreshments will also be served.

In addition to the fine art, quilts and many other specialty auction items will be on display. The art works will continue to be on display through September 8.

Seeking Volunteers

Volunteer Services is seeking volunteers for a variety of roles:

• Escorting residents by wheelchair to on-campus appointments and activities
• Providing music
• Serving with the Auxiliary planning the chicken barbecue on Fellowship Day, September 10

If interested in applying, please contact Sue Shirk, Volunteer Services Director, at 509-5409.

White Hibiscus is an original 24” x 30” oil painted and donated by Paris Wyatt Llanso. Paris sculpts her works with thick applications of rich, vibrant colored paints, reminiscent of early impressionists with a distinctive Parisian touch. This piece along with other special originals and numbered prints will be a part of the Art Auction with Liz Hess as Master of Ceremonies and Abe Dillenbach as the Art Auctioneer.
Preparations Underway

Landis Homes Benefit Auction on September 10, 2011 includes this entertaining marble roller created by J. Harold Eby. Created from birch and mahogany, the marble roller has 10 different paths which including a xylophone, whirlpool, and diving board. Known for his intricately crafted marble rollers, Mr. Eby says this will be his last large marble roller due to declining vision. All are invited to experience this special item along with the fine art works at an auction art preview reception on August 2, 6:30 - 8:30 pm. See accompanying article on page 4.

Martha Bartel is putting stitches into this beautifully pieced Irish Chain Star quilt in creams, brown and black, donated by Susan Nolt and quilted by the Landis Homes quilters. The quilt auction will begin at 10:00 am with other equally stunning quilts, wall hangings and baby quilts, such as Stars in Common, Chimney Cornerstone Log Cabin, Boston Commons, Country Love and Illusion. Quilts will be on display at Landis Homes in the Harvest View lobby from August 1 to August 29.

This fine cherry grandmother clock made and donated by Clayton Nissley, along with pictures and descriptions of art works, quilts, antiques, collectables, meals, gift baskets, many other auction items and schedule can be seen at www.landishomes.org

Country Love quilted by Landis Homes quilters, 96 x 112 in

Volunteers, Corporate Sponsorships, Matching Bids, & Patron Donations make this largest fundraising event for the Landis Homes Caring Fund a success. For more information about these opportunities, please contact Gift Planning Services at 717-509-5490 or asprunger@landishomes.org

Golf Tournament Raises $43,100 for Adult Day Services.

Alonna Gautsche Sprunger
Director of Gift Planning Services

“Live each day to its fullest,” was the advice that Marvin Cunningham, 94 year old Adult Day Service client, gave the golfers and business sponsors at the celebration dinner after the morning round of golf. Met with a round of applause, Marvin’s advice was being followed on June 3rd as the Benefit Golf Tournament’s participants enjoyed a beautiful and clear 80 degree day having fun …with friends while raising $43,100 for Adult Day Services and financial aid for eligible clients.

Thank you to 80 Business Sponsors and Patrons and 228 Golfers who made the 20th Golf Tournament a success. A golf booklet with sponsor names and ads and a newsletter announcing the tournament winners may be viewed at www.landishomes.org.

Landis Homes thanked and recognized 10 Business Sponsors for their 20 years of support of Adult Day Services through the Benefit Golf Tournament. They were presented a handcrafted tulipwood pen by Larry Zook, President.

The faithful and loyal 20 year partners are:

- Bomberger’s Store
- Clark Associates
- Earl King Inc
- Foxchase Golf Club
- Hess Brothers Fruit
- Mast Electric
- Oregon Dairy
- RLPS Associates
- Triangle Refrigeration
- Turkey Hill

After a ride on a golf cart with Landis Homes Team Member April Horst, Marvin was interviewed by Faith Hoover, Director of Home & Community Services, about his experiences at Eden West Adult Day Services. He loves everything he does at the center, is no longer willing to eat wax beans and has a goal to live 100 years.

Resident Luke Bomberger and former Landis Homes President Ed Longenecker golfed and worked at the 1st tournament in 1991 and 20 years later they wait for the signal to begin an afternoon round of golf.
Student Art Award Selected

Landis Homes recently announced Hyobin Chung is their Art Student Award winner for 2011. The announcement was made at the Lancaster Mennonite Schools Awards Assembly on May 13 by Landis Homes resident Roland Yoder, who served on the committee making the selection. Yoder is a retired art teacher from Christopher Dock High School in Landsdale, PA.

In his remarks, Yoder noted this acrylic piece by Chung was selected because of its color, vitality and subject matter. The piece called, “Red, Red, Red” depicts the scene of a sidewalk café with many people engaged in eating and talking.

Each year since 1995, Landis Homes selects a piece of artwork from the Lancaster Mennonite High School Spring Fine Arts Festival to become part of a permanent art collection on the retirement community campus.

Chung, who is from Seoul, South Korea, is a junior who has enjoyed many art classes. Her parents are Jisang Chung and Young Sook Park. They are English teachers at an academy they operate in Seoul. Hyobin enjoys movies and playing guitar in her spare time.

In return for the artwork, Landis Homes made contributions to the Lancaster Mennonite High art department and to Chung to help in her education.

“Hyobin was so excited to receive this award,” said her host mother Deborah Sprunger. “Her plans are to apply to art schools after she graduates and this kind of recognition is wonderful.”

Green Car Wash Comes to Campus

Two Rainwater Car Wash stations recently opened on campus for use by all residents. The two stations, located in a parking area, use water collected from the roofs of the two new hybrid homes.

A rainwater eco-friendly car wash is one of the best types of car washes because it contains fewer harmful chemicals or sediments that come from public water sources.

The water is stored in underground tanks, then used to wash cars and water plants. It is good for the earth as it saves drinking water by using non-potable water for washing cars.

The hybrid homes, which are in line to receive a LEED certification for environmentally sustainable design, are just one part of the green program at Landis Homes.
Senior Games is Winning Experience

The 23rd annual Senior Games took place from June 13-June 17, 2011 at Franklin and Marshall College and Leisure Lanes in Lancaster. Landis Homes was well represented with 21 residents signing up and bringing home 19 medals: 11 Gold, 3 Silver, and 5 Bronze.

The Senior Games provide an opportunity for Lancaster County residents ages 55 and over to take part in a wide variety of sporting and recreational events. Landis Homes was recognized this year for being a sponsor of the games for 14 years.

Rachel Brubaker, Jane Kauffman, Charles Longenecker, and Glenn Stauffer won gold in Bocce Ball. Fred Honaman, for the second year in a row, brought home a gold medal in the biceps curl to go along with silver in the bench press.

Jim Gingrich won two medals: gold in the Frisbee throw and a bronze in the walking competition. Walter Shirk brought home two bronzes in Bocce Ball and horseshoes. Hank Kadel again stood out in the swimming competition, winning 2 gold medals and 2 silver medals, all in one day.

In shuffleboard, David Hess and Luke Horst continued their winning streak with gold medals. On the last day of competition, Abe LeFever and Glenn Stauffer participated in the billiards tournament, winning gold and bronze.

Heritage Watchers Announces New Series

As she begins her 16th year of instructing classes at Landis Homes, Joanne Hess Siegrist, founder of Heritage Watchers, says, “I am already anticipating the many students who will engage in this year’s hands-on activity to transform their personal photographs, memoirs, and history into accessible and priceless family heirlooms.”

The monthly classes are open to men and women of all ages, faiths and locales. They are designed to help individuals explore their unique family history and learn what genealogical and historical resources are available in local libraries and archives.

During a nine-part series, class participants are trained to become detectives to find and to save their early family artifacts. They also discover new ways to use photographs. Other areas to be covered are genograms and birthmarks, and the use of themes such as peacemaking.

“The class times are styled as all-on-the-table, and become places where we support values of healing, truth, mercy and hope,” says Siegrist. “Class members receive useful handles that can be used in any region of the world in order to find their early ancestral connections.”

The class meets monthly on the first Thursday from September to May from 1:00-3:00 p.m. The first class is scheduled for September 1, 2011, in the Harvest Room on Landis Homes campus.
