From the Board Chair Person and the President

Our thirty-fifth year calls for not only celebration but also thanksgiving. It is important that we consider our blessings, express our joy and seek guidance for the future. Residents, staff, board and our friends enjoyed various activities commemorating thirty-five years of life at Landis Homes.

We happily celebrate events of this past fiscal year as well. In many ways it was a year "the puzzle came together." After a lengthy planning and construction phase, the opening of The Heritage was a major happening. When residents moved into the Lancaster, Conestoga and Lititz "houses," The Heritage special care center for persons with memory loss took on a dynamic personality as it always does when a new building is occupied. In addition, the renovation and conversion of Cedar from Healthcare to Assisted Living required many moves of residents from one area to another. We applaud the patience and understanding of residents and their families as they experienced these changes.

This was also a year of looking forward. The board and management staff acquired the services of the consulting firm KPMG (Peat Marwick) to lead us through strategic planning. This plan was announced and will guide us through the next several years.

We were involved in a strenuous self-study process involving staff, board and residents to prepare for re-accreditation by the Continuing Care Accreditation Commission

Ed Longenecker and Glen Hostetler

(CCAC), which is sponsored by the American Association of Homes and Services for the Aging. Accreditation means we have been carefully evaluated and found to meet national standards of excellence. This is another cause for celebration.

Alliance discussions offering the opportunity to collaborate with other retirement communities involved in a similar mission is exciting. How can we more effectively network in our mission to serve our communities? The national environment of health care, with its complex reimbursement systems, is ever changing and challenging. Overall, the past year was a good year in both fiscal and organizational health.

Pray with us that we would possess God-given wisdom and courage to perform our duties into the new millennium. Our desire is not only to be "Y2K compliant" but to be ready and excited about the opportunities of the year 2000 and beyond.

Yours sincerely,

J. Glen Hostetler,
Chair, Board of Directors

Edward M. Longenecker,
President

Former Board Chair Ken Brubaker, received the honor of Trustee of the Year at the annual Pennsylvania Association of Non-Profit Homes for the Aging (PANPHA) in recognition of his service to Landis Homes. During his tenure on the Board, Landis Homes became accredited by the Continuing Care Accreditation Commission, opened 125-apartments called Harvest View and opened The Heritage special care center for persons with memory loss. The PANPHA awards committee stated in presenting the award, "His progressive thinking and passion for developing new ways of providing integrated healthcare services clearly identify him as a leader."

Adult Day Services celebrated its 10th anniversary this year as well as opened a second center. Eden West is the name of the original center and Eden East is the new center located in The Heritage. A favorite program in both centers is "Baby Takes a Bath".

Officers of the newly formed computer club log on to one of three on-campus computers for resident use. They are (left to right) Vice Chairperson James Clymer, Secretary Rachel Fisher and Chairperson Miriam Buckwalter, seated. Monthly meetings attended by 15 to 25 persons are times for learning new things, sharing information and asking questions. Club members are also available to help new users with training and support outside of regular meetings.
